THANK YOU TO OUR PARISH VOLUNTEERS FOR THEIR ANSWER TO THE CALL TO HELP WITH THE MAINTENANCE OF THE GROUNDS OF OUR CHURCHES.

WE PUT OUT THE CALL AND THEY ANSWERED. YOU KNOW WHO YOU ARE AND UNSELFISHLY YOU GAVE OF YOUR TIME AND EFFORT. THANK YOU SO MUCH.

My Dear Friends in Christ,

A number of years ago, my siblings and I held a 40th Anniversary party for my parents. We wanted to show our love and appreciation for all that they had done for us, and so we invited all sorts of family and friends to the occasion. At the close of the evening, my parents got up to speak, expressing their appreciation at all that had been done for them that evening. When someone asked my mother if she had ever thought of divorcing my father, her response was that “divorce never crossed my mind... murder, yes, but never divorce!” It was a humorous way to say that while they had had their challenges, they always found a way to work them out.

Divorce in our nation has grown over the years at an alarming rate. There are many factors in this increase: the ease of divorce, the lack of commitment between the parties, and the lack of preparation going into marriage are just a few reasons. One of the main reasons, I believe, is that the couple sees it as another “contract” into which they are entering. This is in conflict with the Christian ideal of marriage, which sees the union as a covenant, not a contract. Christian marriage has many of the elements of a contract: two parties, the exchange of promises, and the eventual dissolution of the agreement (“until death do us part”). It becomes a covenant when the two parties bring God into the equation; then it is no longer two, but three, who are involved in the agreement. When one brings God into the “mix”, it “raises the stakes” for when God becomes involved there is an element of faith in the agreement. When God is involved, one trusts that the Almighty has the best interest of the parties in mind, and they themselves put their needs second to those of their partner. In Christian marriage, the element of self-giving love, mirroring the selfless love that God first gave to His people, is present in this agreement, this covenant.

We would do well to work towards restoring this element of self-giving love into marriage. Marriage has benefits not only for the parties involved, but all of society. Christian marriage, the union of one man and one woman, brings forth elements that are both unitive (i.e. the joining of the couple in love, for mutual support) and procreative (i.e. the bringing forth of children) that are unique to this pairing. There are certain segments of society which see marriage as a civil construct, thus rendering it answerable to that society. In our Catholic-Christian milieu, we see marriage through a covenantal lens (and not merely contractual) which thus puts it as part of society, yes, but distinct in a very real way.

May we pray for traditional marriage to be upheld by our society for both the unitive and procreative dimensions that they offer to society. It is in these ways that marriage is, and continues to be, a great benefit for the parties involved, their offspring and society as a whole. May we as good people of good will continue to dialogue with people who see this differently so that we may change minds and hearts to see the necessary good in traditional marriage.

Have a Blessed Week,

Fr. Paul

October Teen Mass

Our first Teen Mass is October 20 at the 6:15 Mass at St. Ann. Similar to Family Mass, we invite our teens to do a reading or bring up the gifts. Fr. Paul also tailors his homily to be relevant to their life and there is contemporary music at the Mass. If your teen is interested in bringing up the gifts or doing a reading, please email Matt Brady

MY FRANCISCAN JOURNEY

Time for a refresher and some reflection, since we have just celebrated the Feast of St. Francis (October 4) . Seven years ago, I traveled through Rome and Assisi on a service pilgrimage. While Rome was magnificent, little did I know how much of an impact that tiny Italian town of Assisi would have on my life, ministry, and relationship with the Lord. During that time, something stirred in me, calling me to explore a deeper relationship with St. Francis of Assisi and leading me to follow the Lord, in a new way, through the Secular Franciscans.

Today's readings speak of marriage in various ways: suitable partnerships, two becoming one. In these readings, the thought is that while different, there is a unity between partners. This is very much the case with the Secular Franciscan Order. Secular Franciscans are very much "in the world" (in partnership with God's plan of/for Creation), as St. Francis himself was, and we are called to bring "Gospel to life and life to Gospel". We do this by taking that charism of Francis that we learn about in reading, prayer, and monthly gatherings, and living it out in the everyday life. But we are not "of the world" because their focus is, as Francis' focus was, the Eternal Kingdom of God.

When we hear the name St. Francis of Assisi (whose Feast Day was just celebrated), we tend to think of the Blessing of the Animals (which we celebrated yesterday), his love of nature, and a kind and gentle soul. While all of these associations are valid, St. Francis was so much more. He was one who worked for that "unity in diversity" diligently as a devoted churchman, loyal to the Church and desirous of others to follow Christ in word and deed. When St. Francis founded the Secular Franciscan Order over 800 years ago, it was his intention to draw others into the Church through prayer, study, and works of mercy. Secular Franciscans come from all walks of life and are drawn from the laity (married and single) and diocesan clergy (bishops, priests, and deacons).

In my 29 years of priesthood, I have been led to live out my vocation in many different ways and in many different charisms. In the last few years, my time in the Secular Franciscans has brought a joy and peace that is an amazing testament to God's working in my vocation through St. Francis. I pray that when I am "professed" (that is, fully initiated) in the Secular Franciscans, God may continue to work in my life, ministry, and vocation and bring it to a new level of dedication. May our Good God, through the intercession of St. Francis (on this, his Feast) draw you close, show you His love, and make you an "instrument of His peace".

Pax et Bonum,

Fr. Paul, OFS

Delivering the Love and Hope of Jesus Christ

My Brother's Keeper is a vibrant, welcoming Christian ministry that delivers household furniture, healthy groceries, and Christmas gifts to local families in need. This charitable organization was founded in 1988 by a husband and wife from the basement of their home. Today, 5,000 volunteers and 18 employees work together from two modern facilities to make 18,600 deliveries each year.

The title of Paul Key's talk comes directly from the mission statement of My Brother's Keeper. Paul will speak about his own experiences with My Brother's Keeper and the need for all Christians to bring the love and hope of Jesus to the world.

Paul is a Permanent Deacon in the Archdiocese of Boston, serving at Sts. Mary & Joseph Collaborative in Plymouth/Kingston. In this role he oversees two Ministries that work directly with people experiencing homelessness, Matthew's Kitchen and Friends of Lazarus. He is also the Chief Development Officer at My Brother's Keeper.
