Dear Friends,

This Tuesday is All Saints Day, which is a Holy Day of Obligation. It is an important Holy Day, one that we should come to church to celebrate. Traditionally, we think of the great and well known saints on All Saints Day, such as St. Theresa, St. Patrick, St. Ann and of course, St. Mary our mother. Perhaps we may think of some of the newer saints such as St. Edith Stein or St. Maximilian Kolbe. To remember these saints and any of the other well known saints is a wonderful thing to do. However, this All Saints Day, I would ask you to come to Mass to remember the saints of your life. Remember none of the saints were perfect people. Saints are people who lead us into a deeper friendship with the Lord and His Church. Saints are those people who have gone before us who radiated holiness and not necessarily perfection. So who are the saints who have brought you closer to the Lord and His Church? Perhaps it was your mom or dad who brought you to church and taught you how to be a loving person. Perhaps it was a grandparent who showered you with the kind of love that only a grandparent can give. Maybe it was a friend or a neighbor who helped you out during a difficult time. Or maybe it was your spouse who loved you unconditionally for many years. These saints are in all of our lives. They have brought us closer to the Lord and his people that we call the Church. Nov. 1, Saints Day is their feast day and we should come to Mass to give thanks for the "saints" in our life.

God, Bless,
Fr. Wally
